

THE SOUTH LONDON MAGIC SOCIETY

Sarah felt unable to write anything about this meeting so I have gathered these few pictures together as a reminder of a ...memorable evening.

The evening started in a lively fashion with Rob's controversial opinions on magic and magicians.

He then demonstrated how to blow a balloon up properly

He tried to demonstrate putting a bubble in a balloon.

His approach to the cups and balls was like none other i have seen

But he thought his ending was weak.

Rob admits to a problem with swearing and has developed strategies to use during a performance to control these tendencies

Basic elastic band twanging

A card trick

Rob showed us that when you are on your own you can get films to watch on your phone . He suggested using a mirror so you can see what you are doing.

In the second part of the evening Rob's views on giving away secrets caused a lot of debate amongst those few remaining.

An 'interesting' evening where I'm sure we all learnt something.
